DETAILED ACTION

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Species A: (refer to claims 1-7 and 9-11) A method for processing restricted securities trades wherein, documentation supportive of a trade is automatically generated and wherein the generated documents include at least a legal opinion indicating whether or not the trade restriction have been satisfied. An electronic signature to execute the document is then received.

Species B: (refer to claims 12-21) A method of interacting with a network access device in order to complete an online transaction which comprises receiving documentation related to the trade of a restricted security wherein the received documents include at least a legal opinion indicating whether or not the trade restriction have been satisfied and transmitting an electronic authorization to conduct the trade is then transmitted.

This species does not require automatic generation of a legal document. Instead, such document may be pre-stored in a database or some other electronic form and extracted at the time of the trade.

Species C: (refer to claims 22-23). This species recite a computer signal embodied in a digital data stream. This feature is distinct feature of processing restricted securities not required and not recited in Species A and B.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

2. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
